RE: Lower Darby Creek Area Superfund Site (the "Site")

Dear Ms. Prisk:

I write this letter as a follow-up to our conversation and correspondence of August 21, 2001. Kimberly-Clark Corporation ("K-C") has had the opportunity to review the interview summary of a former Eastern Industrial ("EI") driver. We find a number of points that need clarifying before we begin our research to ascertain if there are records of any former Scott Paper Company facility's nexus to the Site. Specifically:

- EPA's July 2001 104(e) Request to K-C referenced the time period of 1958 to 1976. Page 1 of the Interview Summary redacts the dates that the witness drove trash trucks for EI. As the 104(e) Request spans 18 or more years, with many of these years occurring prior to federal regulations and requirements for record keeping, exact dates are important to our search.
- On Pages 4-5 of the Interview Summary the EI driver mentions a Scott facility but does not include dates that this witness allegedly transported waste from a Scott facility to the Site. Once again, exact dates are important to our search.
- Also, K-C respectfully requests that at this time you provide us with any and all additional information in your database showing a nexus between a Scott facility and this Site; or, alternatively, please confirm that the Interview Summary is the only documentation you have concerning Scott.

K-C requires this information before it can conduct a diligent search in response to EPA's requests. Thanking you in advance for your continued assistance, I am,

Sincerely yours,
